€ COST OVERVIEW

What comes on top of the price?

Besides the purchase price, buying a home in Spain involves taxes and a number of costs for the legal side of the purchase. Here you can read which costs these are, why they exist and what we take care of for you. The exact amounts depend on the home and on your situation: your agent will go through them with you personally.

COST OVERVIEW

Resale or new build?

RESALE | NEW BUILD

Which tax you pay depends on the home: transfer tax (ITP) for a resale home, VAT (IVA) and stamp duty (AJD) for a new build.

Taxes on the purchase TAX

9% of the purchase price

RESALE

Transfer tax (ITP)

A tax of the Valencia region on buying an existing home. You pay it after signing at the notary through the Modelo 600 return; we file that return for you.

10% of the purchase price

NEW BUILD

VAT (IVA)

On the first sale of a new home by a developer you pay VAT instead of transfer tax. It is paid together with the instalments to the developer.

1.4% of the purchase price

NEW BUILD

Stamp duty (AJD)

A tax of the Valencia region on the notarial deed of a new build. We file this return for you too.

A different rate can apply in special situations. Your agent checks which rate applies to your purchase.

ALL-IN FEE

HOW WE WORK

One fixed all-in fee

Many agencies charge the lawyer, notary, land registry, NIE and power of attorney separately, so you only find out the total afterwards. With us, the legal side of the purchase falls under one fixed fee that you know up front.

The legal side IN OUR ALL-IN FEE

Lawyer and legal checks

We check for debts, mortgages or charges on the home, whether it was built and registered legally, and we draw up and check the contracts. So you buy free of burdens.

Notary

In Spain a home changes hands through a notarial deed (escritura). The notary checks identities, payments and the deed and reads it through with you.

Land registry

Only once your name is in the Registro de la Propiedad are you protected as the owner against third parties too.

NIE / tax number

Without an NIE there is no deed, no tax return, no bank account and no utilities in your name.

Power of attorney, if you wish

If you cannot sign in person, we complete the purchase with a power of attorney, so you do not need to be here on the signing date.

Translation and support at the notary

We translate the documents and are with you when you sign, so you only sign what you understand.

Tax returns after the purchase

We file the required returns after the purchase (Modelo 600, and Modelo 211 where needed) for you.

Depending on your situation

THIRD PARTIES

Mortgage

If you finance in Spain, the bank has the home valued (tasación) and may charge an arrangement fee. Since 2019 the bank pays the notary and registry costs and the tax on the mortgage deed.

Power of attorney in your own country

If you sign the power of attorney at a notary in your own country, add that notary's fees, an apostille and a sworn translation.

Bank and money transfer

You need a Spanish bank account for the purchase and the running costs. Your bank may charge for the account, an international transfer or currency exchange.

Utilities

We put water, electricity and gas, if any, in your name. The supplier may ask a one-off fee or a deposit for this.

Home insurance

Wise from day one, for buildings and contents. With a mortgage, buildings insurance is compulsory.

3% retention if the seller lives abroad

If the seller is not resident in Spain, you withhold 3% of the price and pay it to the Spanish tax office on their behalf (Modelo 211). This is not an extra cost: it is part of the price.

After the purchase: running costs

- IBI (municipal property tax)
- Rubbish collection tax (basura)
- Community of owners fee (comunidad), if applicable
- Insurance, water and electricity
- Non-resident income tax (Modelo 210), if you do not live in Spain

When do you pay what?

1. Reservation — A deposit takes the home off the market.
2. Purchase contract (arras) — With the private purchase contract you pay part of the price, usually 10%.
3. Notary — At the deed you pay the balance of the price.
4. After the deed — Then the transfer tax and the land registry follow.
